

Balltown Cemetery, Vernon County, Missouri

Renovation work being done at the Balltown Cemetery by Robert Seater and his assistant Steve 'Tex' McKinley. Before and after pictures. See related 15 August 2008 Nevada Daily Mail newspaper story

Some of the first work completed was trimming the trees and removing overgrown bushes and brush. Note in the left picture that the top of the stone on the left has fallen over; in the picture on the right, it has been reattached to its base and nearby brush has been removed.

An old unsightly, dilapidated equipment shed was removed.

An old unsightly, dilapidated equipment shed was removed.

(Left) Trees on left side of center drive have been trimmed but not those on the right side.
(Right) all trees have been trimmed and brush removed.

The old fence and fencerow along the west side of the cemetery was cleaned out (left) and a new chain link fence installed.

Before and after brush removal.

Stones are repaired and straightened as needed.

All work is being done by Robert Seater and his assistant Steve 'Tex' McKinley.